

Bodegas Breca

Located in the sleepy town of Munebrega, Bodegas Breca was founded by Jorge Ordóñez in 2010 with the goal of producing the finest Garnacha in Aragón. Garnacha de Aragón, the clone used to produce the wines of Bodegas Breca, is the most ancient and genetically untouched clone of Garnacha in the world.

2015 Breca

91+ Points – Jeb Dunnuck

D.O.
Calatayud

Varietal

100% Garnacha de Aragón, the oldest clone of Garnacha in the world. Garnacha was first cultivated in this northeastern corner of Spain and transferred across the Mediterranean by the Kingdom of Aragón

Aging

18 months sur lie in yeast in French oak puncheons and demi-muids with battonage

The wine is characterized by aromas of ripe black fruit compote, overlaid with spices such as black pepper. There is an obvious minerality proceeding from the vineyards' diverse range of soil types. The soils range from iron rich red slate and clay to black slate.
