2017 Chateau Ribaute Rosé

Appellation

AOC Corbières

Varietal

35% Syrah, 35% Grenache, 30% Cinsault

The Ribaute name, features in historical accounts dating from 802, which shows that the Domaine is of Roman origin. The Château itself is mentioned in documents from 1285. Château de Ribaute's vineyards sit on stony, clay-limestone terraces in the heart of the Corbières region.

The name of the cuvée: Senhal d'Aric is a tribute to the geographical position of Château Ribaute, close to the Alaric mountain. The highest peak is called "Signal d'Alaric", or in occitan: Senhal d'Aric, at 600 meters above sea level.

This wine displays a beautiful apricot pink hue and is fine and delicate on the nose with notes of red berries brought out nicely by a light touch of peach and apricot. It is fresh and elegant on the palate with fresh fruit flavors within a delicious, fruity –finish
