

Argentina is a country where its people love to express themselves. Embracing art as a language, locals do this through rich cuisine, vibrant music and eye-catching street art. This dynamic culture inspires on a daily basis and DR Art of the Andes wines embrace this lifestyle in each and every one of its handcrafted wines. DR Art of the Andes wines are certified in both GMP (Good Manufacturing Practices) and GAP (Good Agricultural Practices) by the internationally respected DNV-GL Corporation. A portion of every bottle of Don Rodolfo sold is donated to support a socio-economically diverse group of aspiring Argentinean artists. With this money we are able to cover costs of their art supplies, studio time, and continual education via special workshops, artist lectures and participation in open studios.
