

 PAINTED Wolf WINES

In 1996, Emma and Jeremy Bourg made a pact; to find a way to harness their skill to make a meaningful contribution to the conservation of Africa's wild species. Continuing his wine career, Jeremy worked seven years at Fairview where he was responsible for the development of Goats do Roam, then went on from there to help a many other wineries with strategic and marketing issues. Jeremy began making small amounts of his own wine, searching to fulfill the promise he had made ten years earlier. Eventually the concept took form, and with the help of groups - minded investors, the Painted Wolf wine pack, Painted Wolf Wines began to evolve. The teamwork and social dynamics of an African Painted Wolf Pack frame the Painted Wolf business philosophy. The "pack" is a group of passionate grape growers, artists, conservationists, marketing experts and a leading winery in the Douro.

The Den wines, named for the den, the heart of all African wild dog communities, are social wines to be enjoyed with friends and family. Flavor-packed, soft and juicy comfort wines for every day drinking.
