

PALLADINO
SERRALUNGA D'ALBA

Azienda Vinicola Palladino sits nestled in the town of Serralunga d'Alba, in the heart of Barolo, one of Italy's premier wine-making regions. The Serralunga (long ridge) commune has a distinct reputation within the Barolo towns, not only being the most southeast of the Langhe hills and furthest from the Tanaro river but also having the oldest soil composition (calcareous clay) giving the wines great elegance and structure.
